Newsletter

Issue 16

April, 2007

Dear Readers,

In this issue, we'd like to officially welcome a new board member and a new team member.

Videos on education will be coming to our website in the next few months, thanks to the help of producer/director Duncan Scott.

We'll also be uploading all our previous newsletters to our website soon, including my articles on education.

To our many supporters, thank you for making our work possible.

Sincerely,

Marsha

FREEDOMFEST
"Where Free Minds Meet"

If you are attending, please come by and visit our booth at the upcoming FreedomFest conference in Las Vegas July 5-7.

Marsha will be giving a presentation about the College project to the attendees, hopefully garnering some supporters. See you there!

Patrick Peterson Joins RIFI Team

Pat Peterson has officially joined the RIFI team as a volunteer Development Consultant. Unofficially, he has been working with Marsha on many aspects, including donor and foundation searches, marketing and fundraising campaign consulting and the newsletter since 2005 .

Pat has dedicated many years to the ideas of a free society. A long-time student of Ludwig Von Mises, Pat has been instrumental in the founding and development of several important organizations. He greatly increased the size and activity of the Libertarian Club of DuPage County, Illinois in the '80's; he led the notably influential Heartland Institute 's early development efforts, helping increase its budget and programming over twenty times in the first seven years. He went from Heartland to co-found and then run the Free Market Society of Chicago, dedicated to educational seminars and events, which later became Freemarket.net. Currently, he runs the Jefferson Club in the San Francisco Bay area, while continuing as a board member of the St. Martin De Porres House of Hope in Chicago.

Pat resides in San Jose, California with his wife, Mary, and his young son, Arthur

New Publications Describing College Project

We are on the cusp of publishing a booklet explaining our plan for the College and its original curriculum. We will be presenting these to possible major funders, such as foundations and wealthy individuals. At the same time, we are developing a small brochure for general distribution. Please let us know if you would like copies of either to distribute to possible supporters. Send an email with the desired quantity of each, your name and street address to Marsha Enright at the email address on this newsletter.

Upcoming Interview on Education and the College Project In June The New Individualist

Look for an interview with Marsha Familiaro Enright in the June issue of The New Individualist magazine, published by the Atlas Society.

The interview covers many aspects education's current problems, including its roots historical and ideological roots as well as discussing the Montessori Method and the College project.

In the current May issue of the magazine, Marsha reviews the enthralling work of James Clavell, author of Shogun and Noble House. She has previously published articles about Tom Wolfe, hilarious father of the New Journalism, and Cameron Hawley, author of Executive Suite and other novels heroically dramatizing business, as well as a review of a wonderful new children's book by Ilana Dover, An Airplane is Born.
